

AMERICAN Pearl

ESTABLISHED 1950

The Mystery Connector

One set of pearls. Endless ways to wear them.

Instruction & Styling Guide

How It Works

Your Mystery Pearls set is made of separate pearl segments, each finished with a screw clasp cleverly concealed inside the pearls — so the join disappears when worn. Any two segment ends thread together, letting you build the length and the number of strands you want, then take it all apart and start again. One set, many necklaces and bracelets.

Your set includes

- Two 8-inch segments
- One 17-inch segment
- One 18-inch segment

Tip: join the two 8-inch segments to make a 16-inch length.

To connect two segments

Bring the two ends together, gently guide the threaded post into the opposite end, and turn clockwise until it feels snug. Never force it — the threads should turn smoothly and easily.

To take apart

Hold a pearl on each side of the join and turn counter-clockwise until the two ends separate.

To layer into multiple strands

Place two (or three) finished strands together and connect their ends at the clasp so they sit side by side — the shorter strand rests above the longer for a graduated, multi-strand look.

Ways to Wear It

Bracelet & Matinee

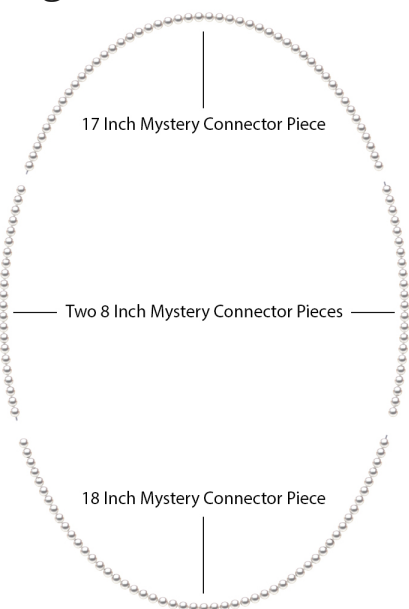

Wear one 8-inch segment on its own as a single-strand bracelet — or join an 8-inch and the 18-inch segment for a 26-inch matinee necklace.

The 16-Inch Choker

Screw the two 8-inch segments together end-to-end for a classic 16-inch single-strand choker.

Single-Strand Necklaces

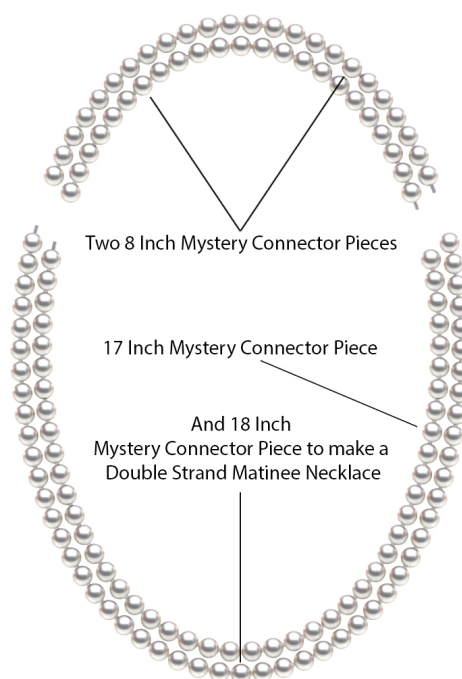

Wear the 17-inch or the 18-inch segment on its own — or the two 8-inch segments joined into 16 inches.

Double-Strand Choker & Bracelet

Layer the 17- and 18-inch segments for a double-strand choker. Layer the two 8-inch segments for a double-strand bracelet.

Double-Strand Matinee

Join 8-inch + 18-inch and 8-inch + 17-inch, then layer the two strands for a dramatic double-strand matinee necklace.

Triple-Strand Princess

Layer all three — the 16-inch (two 8-inch joined), the 17-inch and the 18-inch — for a full triple-strand princess necklace.

Caring for Your Pearls

- Put your pearls on last — after makeup, perfume and hairspray.
- Wipe gently with a soft, damp cloth after each wear and let dry before storing.
- Store flat and separately, away from harder jewelry that can scratch the nacre.
- Keep the screw clasps clean; always turn gently and never force a connection.
- With regular wear, have your strands professionally restrung periodically.
- Avoid chemicals, chlorine and ultrasonic cleaners — they harm cultured pearls.

Questions? Our pearl specialists are here to help.

American Pearl · 1-800-847-3275 · Hand-made in New York since 1950*